

Jonathan E. Sopha Attorney

jsopha@dewittllp.com

262-439-2363

Metro Milwaukee

Jonathan focuses his practice on all aspects of commercial real estate and business matters. With over 20 years of legal experience in private practice and as in-house counsel, Jonathan recognizes the importance of advising on legal risks and strategy while remaining aware of client business goals.

His experience includes navigating purchase and sale negotiations, leasing transactions, governmental permitting and approvals, condominiums and community associations, real estate investment arrangements, financing, title issues, construction and design services agreements, franchises, general contracting, business formation and general business transactions.

Jonathan works with a wide variety of businesses and clients from a broad array of industries. His collaborative approach with his clients is responsive, client-focused and emphasizes practical outcomes. He understands that the most productive attorney-client relationships are based on trust and results. Jonathan appreciates that a key element of business law is helping clients measure and mitigate legal risk in order to achieve a great business outcome. He is genuinely invested in his clients and enjoys celebrating their successes.

Jonathan's personal interests include outdoor pursuits, being a long-time homebrewer, being a former Bucky Badger and a full time Wisconsin fan.

Areas of Expertise

- Business
- Real Estate

Education

- J.D., cum laude, University of Wisconsin-Madison Law School
- B.S., University of Wisconsin-Madison

Admissions

- State Bar of Wisconsin

Affiliations

- Marquette University Law School, Adjunct Professor (Real Estate Finance and Development)
- Director of Pewaukee Sustainability Advisory Group